One of the criteria when choosing a university should be employability of their graduates. How industry-relevant are your courses and what are the possibilities for internships or placements while you are studying? This brings the highlight on Torrens University, a private university in Australia with several campuses. As the country's fastest-growing university, Torrens University Australia brings a fresh approach to higher education.

As the world pivots to online platforms and the pandemic has caused a complete overhaul of the way we experience the world, remaining agile in education and being willing to take a closer look at a less traditional, but no less effective, institution of higher learning is essential.
